

Here in the United States of America, I AM the government. The Sovereignty that you claim to exercise BELONGS TO ME! That SOVEREIGNTY was delegated from the Creator of the Universe, and collectively, through we the people, delegated down to our created offices, one of which you just happen to temporarily occupy, at our good pleasure. The United States Supreme Court has already ruled that I am the Sovereign.

Dred Scott v. Sandford, 60 U.S. 393 (1856) states: "The words 'people of the United States' and 'citizens' are synonymous terms, and mean the same thing. They both describe the political body who, according to our republican institutions, form the sovereignty, and who hold the power and conduct the Government through their representatives. They are what we familiarly call the 'sovereign people,' and every citizen is one of this people, and a constituent member of this sovereignty."

Yick Wo v Hopkins 118 U.S. 356, decided May 10, 1886 states: "Sovereignty itself is, of course, not subject to law, for it is the author and source of law; but, in our system, while sovereign powers are delegated to the agencies of government, sovereignty itself remains with the people, by whom and for whom all government exists and acts".

Chisholm v. State of Georgia, 2 U.S. 419 (1793) states: "Sovereignty is the right to govern; a nation or State-sovereign is the person or persons in whom that resides. In Europe the sovereignty is generally ascribed to the Prince; here it rests with the people; there, the sovereign actually administers the Government; here, never in a single instance; our Governors are the agents of the people, and at most stand in the same relation to their sovereign, in which regents in Europe stand to their sovereigns. Their Princes have personal powers, dignities, and pre-eminences, our rulers have none but official; nor do they partake in the sovereignty otherwise, or in any other capacity, than as private citizens."

Colten v. Kentucky (1972) 407 U.S. 104, 122, 92 S. Ct. 1953 states; "The constitutional theory is that we the people are the sovereigns, the state and federal officials only our agents."

Julliard v Greenman, 110 U.S. 421, (1884), states, "There is no such thing as a power of inherent sovereignty in the government of the United States... In this country sovereignty resides in the people, and Congress can exercise no power which they have not, by their Constitution entrusted to it: all else is withheld."

Perry v United States, 294 U.S. 330, 353 (1935), states "The Congress cannot revoke the Sovereign power of the people to override itself as thus declared."

McCulloch v. Maryland, 4 Wheat 316, 404, 405, states "In the United States, Sovereignty resides in the people, who act through the organs established by the Constitution."
